Unfortunately I can't come to the meeting tonight. I'm sure some representatives from the Washington Yacht Club at the UW will come and write as well. The Yacht club is based out of the UWs Waterfront Activities Center.

I have been a member of the club for 10 years and learned sailing, surfboarding and other watersports from the club. The Pacific Interchange would alter the life of the club by making it difficult for people to get out on the boats, make heavier traffic in an already extremely congested area and at the very the very least alter the asthetics of the area.
